Creating YOUR Modular Project Team

MODULAR CONSULTANTS

Modular Sure Site Consultants is an exclusive, experienced, and modular mindset group. Our premier leaders understand and perform at the highest level in this form of construction. Success starts in the pre-planning process and is only effective when you have the right players on your construction team.

Our goal is to build your modular construction project through a streamline process with the best collaborators in engineering, design, factory selection, general contractors, software, legal, and more. Building your team is our specialty!

THE MODULAR VISION

There is a specialized team and process that must take place in order to succeed in building modular structures. Each member on your team must have the experience with this build knowledge; this approach is different than traditional construction in many ways. Each one of our partners are highly efficient and effective specialist in their field, excel in communication, and believe in achieving success from the pre-planning to the execution stage.
